INFRASTRUCTURE

OUR PHILOSOPHY

As Parents and Teachers, we are aware that education is much more than rote learning and examinations. Why then has school education been reduced to mere information processing and testing? Why have the needs of children as children and as learners been relegated to the back shelf by formal systems of education?

Built on a foundation of Trust, Love, Joy, Listening and Caring for each Child, SEA School is committed to provide much more than mere transmission of information and skills acquired through compartmentalized syllabi. True education begins with knowing and understanding the child. At SEA, the child and the adult are both learners. Together, they weave a world of sharing, discovering and constructing new hopes and new vistas. To begin with, the learning environment at SEA is defined by creating a culture that permits learners, both young and old, to build enduring relationships with themselves and the world around them.

THE SEA CURRICULUM

The four broad goals of education at SEA include the development of the inner and interpersonal self, scholarly development, active participation in a wide range of opportunities and creative expressions.

To achieve these objectives, the curriculum at SEA follows the principles of integrated education.

Integrated education is one that enables students:

- * To weave the development of their physical self with the development of their mind, the emotional, social and inner self
- * To make connections between different forms of knowledge, self-development and creative expressions

NCC, SCOUT & GUIDE

NCC, Scout & Guide aim - to develop qualities of character, courage, comradeship, discipline, leadership, secular outlook spirit of adventure and sportsmanship and the ideals of selfless service among the youth to make them useful citizen.

To create a human resource of organized trained and motivated youth to provide leadership in all walks of life including the Armed Forces and be always available for the service of the nation.

Social service has been an integral part of The SEA School since its inception, children will engage in a series of real-life projects both within the school and outside. Learning the social responsibility role that water plays in our lives, seeing at first hand the impact of plastics on our lives and of environmental degradation. They also learn convey their observations and findings to different audiences.
